

MARCH 16, 2022 PARISH UPDATE

Dear Parishioners,

The Covid Committee met last week to discuss our transition into the new normal. As you know the government lifted all Covid measures on March 14th. Our first service without any government mandated restrictions will be this coming Sunday March 20th.

Please note the following changes:

- We will no longer need to register for services or record attendance for contact tracing.
- Masks will no longer be required though if you wish to continue to wear one please feel free to do so.
- We will no longer need to maintain a physical distance from one another though if you wish feel free to do so.
- We will continue to have hand sanitizer available in the Narthex and as people come up for communion.
- The books will be back in the pews.
- We will leave the collection plates where they are for the time being but counters will be able to count the offering on Sunday after church if they wish.
- For the time being we will continue to share the peace by waving to one another as we don't want anyone to feel uncomfortable if they are not ready to shake hands or give hugs just yet.
- We will be serving communion in both kinds (bread and wine) though for the time being we will be serving the wine in the little cups only.

If you have any questions or feedback please let me know,
thanks,
Jonathan
